REDMOND

Declares Ireland Still Rebellious and Freedom Only Will Work Change.

Nothing Short of Autonomy Will Satisfy and Lead to Peace.

People to Be Urged to Cease the Use of British Goods.

LARDNER ELECTED TO PARLIAMENT

John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists in the House of Commons, delivered an address at Wexford last Sunday at the ceremony attending the unveiling of a memorial to Wexfordians, who fell at the battle of New Ross in 1798. He gave a definite warning to British statesmen, saying:

"We tell England that we hate her rule bitterly, as did our forefathers when they shed their blood on this spot. We tell her that we are as much rebels to her rule today as our forefathers were in '98. We tell her that she can change that hatred only by granting freedom, and so long as she withdraws freedom it will remain merely a question of expediency how and by what means we will strike at the power that holds our country in bondage."

On Thursday of last week in Dublin sixty-four representatives of the districts of seventeen members of the House of Commons attended a meeting of the National Directory of the United Irish League. John E. Redmond presided, and the object of the meeting was to organize an Irish protest against the continuous denial of self-government for Ireland. Great unity of purpose was shown, and it was resolved to hold a series of monster demonstrations throughout Ireland to endorse the declaration of the national convention that nothing short of national autonomy will satisfy the Irish people and lead to peace and contentment, as well as to impress on the minds of the English statesmen the necessity of finding some acceptable settlement of the question.

The people are to be urged to cease the use of British manufactures and to insist that the children be taught the Irish language in the schools. Besides approving a number of other planks in the national policy, a resolution was unanimously adopted expressing confidence in the Irish party and approval of its withdrawal from the Liberal alliance.

The directory, however, rejected by a vote of eighty to seven a motion inviting the co-operation of William O'Brien, M. P., for Cork, and Timothy Healy, M. P., for the North division of Louth, and rejected also by a vote of eighty to four a motion favoring the retirement of the Nationalist members from Parliament, which was strongly advocated by some of the most extreme members of the league. Special thanks were voted to Irishmen of Jarrold for the lead given to Irishmen in Great Britain in emphasizing their dissatisfaction with the Government, whose surrender to pernicious influences within and without the Cabinet and the House of Lords was denounced.

At North Monaghan Mr. Lardner, the local candidate, was elected to Parliament, unopposed, in accordance with Chairman Redmond's advice.

ALL GOOD MEN.

Mackin Council Sends Strong Delegation to Owensboro Convention.

The fact that Mackin Council was to elect delegates and alternates Tuesday night to the Kentucky Grand Council that meets at Owensesboro next August brought out an unusually large attendance of members. President Sand occupied the chair and dispatched the business with promptness. Sixteen names were presented, and from them the following delegates and alternates were chosen: Rev. J. Sand, John Farrell, Vincent Fallisi, Robert T. Burke, Charles J. Cate, Charles F. Ralby, William M. Higgins, George J. Lautz, Samuel L. Robertson and Frank Densler.

This was the first meeting for some time without an application for membership. Will Quill, George Kieffer and John Bohn were reported yet ill but improving. Louis Kieffer stated that the Choral Club would soon submit a complete report of its affairs and would surprise the council. An announcement was made that everything was ready for the sunset excursion on Saturday evening, July 6. Tickets will be sold only at the club house and boat.

Mackin ratified the acts of its members of the Joint Committee and asked them to secure special rates if possible to the Grand Council convention. Joseph Lenihan, Grand Director and member of Satoll Council, was a visitor and upon entering the members greeted him with hearty applause.

HOLY LIFE ENDS.

After spending thirty-five years in the holy priesthood the Rev. Father Augustine Beyer, for the past five years assistant at St. Boniface church, this city, was last Sunday called to his heavenly reward. Four weeks before he suffered from a paralytic attack and was removed to St. Anthony's Hospital, where he was tenderly cared for and received the most skillful medical attention, but without avail. Father Augustine was born in Cincinnati in 1849, and entered the Franciscan order in 1872. Before coming to this city he had done much missionary work and was the pastor of different large congregations. Surviving him are two sisters, Mrs. Andrew Nathan and Sister Mary Catherine, stationed at the Notre Dame Convent in Boston, and one brother, Joseph Beyer, of Cincinnati. Wednesday morning solemn funeral services were held with a large number of clergy assisting at the high mass of requiem, after which the remains were laid to rest in St. Michael's cemetery.

COMMENCEMENT

Exercises Significant of the Success of Columbian College.

Columbia College, the new Catholic college of Kentucky, which was established at Owensboro in September last, closed its first year's work on June 19, with exercises held at the Grand Theater, and the commencement was significant of the success of the college. The programme, which was rendered before a large audience, embraced a short drama, three addresses, several music numbers and four athletic exhibitions by Prof. Bouquet's athletic class. Academic diplomas were conferred upon Guy Joseph And, Francis Xavier Argast and Richmond Dennis Coeke, and a commercial diploma upon Charles Carroll Steele, the only recipient out of a large class.

The commencement address was delivered with brevity, strength and eloquence by Rev. George M. Connor, who was a boyhood friend of the President of the college, and to whom is due very much of the popularity and success of the institution, which in its first year enrolled eighty-one students, and bids fair next session almost to double that number.

The college conducts the regular courses as found in the higher Catholic institutions, having full classical and commercial courses, and a fine course in higher mathematics and theoretical mechanics to fit students for good work later in all engineering fields. Commercial students follow commercial branches exclusively. Latin, Greek, German and French are taught, and one of the ancient and one of the modern languages are necessary to take a degree. As students come from a distance a boarding department, under immediate care of one of the professors, has been established, and therein regular hours for play, study and sleep are observed by all. This is in a fine modern building, situated on a height overlooking the town and occupying a site of fourteen acres.

AROUSED THEIR IRE.

Thos. Dolan of Games Committee Throws Gauntlet Down to No. 4.

Thomas Dolan, Chairman of the field day games committee, aroused the ire of the members of Division 4, A. O. H., at their meeting on Wednesday evening by stating that he believed that that division had no men capable of making a showing in the games on July 22 at Ninewall Park. Several members arose once and wanted to fill an entry blank right away for the different events, some of them stating that Division 4 not only had the best runners and jumpers but that they had the best tug-of-war team in the State.

In the absence of President Joseph P. McGinn and Vice President Stephen J. McElliot, John H. Hennessy, M. P., for the North division of Louth, and rejected also by a vote of eighty to four a motion favoring the retirement of the Nationalist members from Parliament, which was strongly advocated by some of the most extreme members of the league. Special thanks were voted to Irishmen of Jarrold for the lead given to Irishmen in Great Britain in emphasizing their dissatisfaction with the Government, whose surrender to pernicious influences within and without the Cabinet and the House of Lords was denounced.

At North Monaghan Mr. Lardner, the local candidate, was elected to Parliament, unopposed, in accordance with Chairman Redmond's advice.

To Owensboro

Convention.

HOLY LIFE ENDS.

After spending thirty-five years in the holy priesthood the Rev. Father Augustine Beyer, for the past five years assistant at St. Boniface church, this city, was last Sunday called to those who received certificates were Misses Carmel Mahoney, Mary A. Banet, Margaret Gavin, Mary Dalton, Mamie Hubbard, Mamie Keyer, Emma Warren, Nina Pilson, Margaret Kleinjohn, Clara Kennedy and Agnes Denney. For several days people of the parish visited the school to inspect the work of the pupils, and on all sides the fine exhibit was highly praised. Father Walsh certainly has an excellent school.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Celebrated With Same Pastor and Church of Fifty Years Ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Sullivan, of 1128 Hepburn avenue, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday morning at St. John's church at 8 o'clock with a solemn high mass, Rev. Father L. Bax acting as celebrant, and that which makes it one of the most remarkable incidents in Catholic circles here is that Rev. Father Bax united them in marriage June 28, 1857, just fifty years ago, in the same church, St. John's, at Clay and Walnut streets. Truly a remarkable case and a record that is not often surpassed.

Both members of this good old couple were born in Ireland, Mrs. Sullivan being a native of Limerick and Mr. Sullivan from Cork, she being sixty-eight years of age and Mr. Sullivan seventy-one. They have had ten children, three of whom are now living, two being nuns, Sister Mary Martha and Sister Thomas Marie, and a third daughter, Mrs. Dan J. Hennessey. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan are both enjoying good health and it is the fondest wish of their many friends that they will live to celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary.

IRISH BEAUTY

Captured Prize at Kentucky Press Association Meeting.

The Kentucky Press Association, which held its annual meeting last week at Estill Springs, by a vote decided that Miss Catherine Dowling, of Lawrenceburg, was the prettiest girl over a large number of contestants from various parts of the State, including a number of the reigning belles of the Bluegrass section. The vote was by ballot which were given each member, who wrote thereon their choice. Miss Dowling's plurality was fifteen votes over her nearest competitor, who was Miss Catherine Dowling, of Lawrenceburg. Her name is indelibly stamped on every feature of this Irish-American beauty. She is a striking blonde, with form like the Venus of Milo, and in every way fulfills Fenlon's ideal:

"A woman, loveliest of the lovely kind,

In body perfect and complete in mind."

Miss Dowling is a Catholic and proud of the fact that her parents came from the land that makes people great. Our regret is that we are unable to print her picture in connection with this article.

MEMPHIS.

Campaign to Secure Two Delegates to Next Grand Council.

President George Lawlor of the Memphis Young Men's Institute, last week started an earnest campaign to secure twenty-three new members for the council there. This is being done to increase the membership and thereby entitle Chickasaw Council to two delegates to the Grand Council to be held at Owensboro in August. The new members must be enrolled before July 1.

When the council went to holy communion in a body at St. Patrick's church Rev. Father Francis Sullivan celebrated mass and preached the sermon. As his subject he chose, "In unity there is power, and in power there is strength." Father Sullivan informed the congregation of the ritual of the Y. M. I. and its purpose and benefits. He asked the mothers to make their sons join and to have their daughters encourage the society, by their presence at their entertainments, for by meeting each other at these little gatherings the Catholic young ladies and gentlemen would become more acquainted with one another and from such gatherings may result more Catholic marriages, and not as it is now, so many unfortunate mixed marriages. Father Sullivan asked the members to stand united, in closing his sermon he asked God to bless and protect the society.

LIKES OUR CITY.

B. Joseph O'Donnell, the popular State President of the New York Master Plumbers' Association, and his amiable wife, were here this week attending the master plumbers' conference. They were highly pleased with Louisville and the treatment accorded them, and returned to their home in Syracuse with regret that they could not stay longer. Mr. O'Donnell was at all times prominent figure in the convention, and it need not be surprising if some day he is made President of the national organization.

RECEIVE PALLIUM.

The pallium will be conferred upon Archbishop Quigley in July. The ceremony will be attended by a number of prelates, priests and laymen, and promises to be one of the notable ecclesiastical events of the year.

ELEVEN FINISHED COURSE.

Tuesday the closing exercises of the Sacred Heart commercial school were held, with the parents and many friends of the girl graduates present.

CATHOLIC

Educational Convention to Be Held at Milwaukee This Year.

Notable Gathering of Educators Will Assemble There July 9.

Many Brilliant Addresses Will Be Delivered by Leading Educators.

fully prepared for the final summons. Mrs. Mullane was a woman of kindly heart and disposition and her death is deeply deplored in the neighborhood where she lived. Surviving her are five sons—Patrolman John, Dominick, Patrick, Thomas and James Mullane. The funeral services were held in St. Michael's cemetery.

MT. ST. MARY'S.

Kentuckians Prominent in Historic Catholic Educational Institution.

Kentuckians are making a bright page in Mt. St. Mary's College at Emmitsburg, which last week held its ninety-ninth annual commencement amid scenes of splendor and before hundreds of visitors. St. Mary's is one of the most historic and far-famed Catholic educational institutions in this country, and it is pleasing to know that its President, the Very Rev. Dennis J. Flynn, A. M., LL. D., is a thorough Kentucky Irish-American and a Knight of Columbus. Father Flynn is well known and very popular here, being a Louisville boy—one of Father Bax's boys. Another prominent Louisville man is member of St. Mary's faculty is the Rev. John J. Tierney, D. D. He is a brother of Thomas Tierney, of this city, and is one of the most brilliant men in the country. Father Tierney is a member of the Board of Examiners of the Catholic University at Washington, D. C., Archbishop S. G. Messmer, the Rev. Francis J. Finn, S. J., a noted writer and professor of rhetoric at St. Xavier's College, Cincinnati; Bishop J. Walsh of Boston; and the Rev. F. W. Howard, Superintendent of the parish schools of Columbus, Ohio. The convention will be formally opened with a solemn pontifical high mass celebrated by Archbishop Messmer at the Church of the Gesu on Tuesday morning, July 9. After the mass, Rev. Mr. O'Connell will deliver an address in the Marquette College. After the preliminary work members of the college department and seminary department will hold joint meeting in the assembly room of Marquette College.

One of the important subjects that will engage the attention of the convention is the teaching of deaf mutes. The work of Catholic educators among Indians and negroes will be discussed. Educational legislation in the United States will form the subject at another meeting that will be of interest to all the members. The principal address at this meeting will be made by Prof. W. J. Robinson, of Washington, whose name will be "The Relation of the Catholic State to Social Work." The convention will be brought to a close by a mass meeting at which known speakers will deliver addresses.

TRINITY COUNCIL

Amended Articles of Incorporation Will Soon Be Ready.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Sixty American Members Of the Order See Pope Plus.

Sixty Knights of Columbus from some twenty States arrived in Paris on June 22. Landing at Naples on April 27, they have been traveling ever since without the slightest hitch, and have visited in turn Naples, Rome, Florence, Venice, Milan, the Lakes, Lucerne, Interlaken, Munich, Amsterdam, Berlin, Frankfurt, Cologne, The Hague and Brussels. At Rome they had an audience of the Pope, who spoke individually with every member of the party and once had a chat with Cardinal Merle Val. Mr. Frank A. Gross, of Buffalo, is the leader of the party, who are going on to London.

AFTER THE PRIZE.

Division 3 Setting Pace That Will Make Others Hustle.

The last regular meeting of Division 3, A. O. H., was called to order by President James Coleman and was fairly well attended. Two candidates took the obligation and became members of the division. New members are secured every meeting, and according to Secretary Morris the Illinoisans of Jefferson county are on the forward march and expect to make this the banner year of the order. Books for the Irish national games and summer festival at Ninewall Park went like hot cakes, many members taking several of them. Since the committee has decided that the division selling the largest number of tickets for this celebration will receive a gold prize, Division 3 has gone after it in earnest, and it is now up to the others to hustle if they would stand a chance of winning. To the surprise of nearly all members the hall at Ninewall and Main is the coolest and most comfortable Division 3 has ever occupied.

SODALITY RECEIVED.

Last Sunday morning at the Sacred Heart church the Boys' Sodality just organized by Father Walsh received holy communion in a body. There were seventy-five of the little fellows and the sight they presented was pleasing not only to their parents but to every member of the congregation.

MARY MULLANE DEAD.

Sleep eternal came last Sunday to Mrs. Mary Mullane, a devout and respected member of St. Louis Bertrand's parish, who for years resided at Celtic Park New York City. He hurled the Greek plate 136 feet 10 inches, heating his own record made at Montreal last year by seventeen inches.

death with relatives in preparation for the journey and in the best of spirits. For the past ten years Mr. Ryan had been with the Strick Lumber Company, which as a mark of respect closed its plant that the men might attend the funeral. Though of an unobtrusive nature he was popular with all his associates and his exemplary life won him many friends. He was very much devoted to his brother, and by many it is thought that grief over his death was the cause of the fatal heart attack. He was a cousin of John J. and James Ryan and a brother of Mrs. John Furey and Mrs. J. Elsler. His one hope was to visit Ireland, and he expected to leave here on July 6 to spend the summer there.

HISTORIC CROSS.

Valuable Relic of Missionary Days Unearthed in North-east Indiana.

A MATTER OF VITAL CONCERN

S. L. Hackett, a druggist of Roanoke, Ind., has in his possession an elaborately engraved silver cross that was recently dug from the ground near Racoon village, Allen County. It is supposed that the cross came from an old grave and that was probably buried many years ago, either with a Jesuit priest or with an Indian who had become converted to the Catholic faith by the Jesuits. The cross was found near the location where a powerful tribe of Miami Indians once roamed. "A great many years ago," said Mr. Hackett, "the Government built a house up there for Chief Racoon. It consisted of two rooms. Afterward when the State was divided into counties, it was found that the line ran squarely through the premises that had once been occupied by Chief Racoon. One room of the house was in Allen county and the other in Whitley. A Justice of the Peace was about to perform the ceremony in the room that stood in Whitley county. Concluding that he had no right to go over into another county and perform the marriage ceremony he had the wedding party move into the other room."

SCHMITZ AN EXAMPLE.

Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, has been convicted of crime and will be deposed from office. Thus ends the career of a man who was raised from the rather lowly position of a bandmaster to be the chief executive of one of the greatest cities of our country. With much truth the Irish Standard says his downfall is peculiarly disappointing because he was placed in office by an independent movement of the labor unions and labor classes. His election was heralded throughout the country as a great victory for labor. He was extensively advertised as a reformer. He was pictured as the man who broke the corrupt Democratic and Republican machines of San Francisco. His enthusiastic supporters expected much from him and his administration. The history of his case shows that he and his leading supporters were hypocritical. They entertained the conception that public office was an opportunity for public graft. They used the labor slogan to put them in power. They played upon the prejudice of a class and used that prejudice to enrich themselves. Labor can not be held responsible for Mayor Schmitz. The great mass of people who supported him were honest and sincere. They made a great mistake by allowing a class prejudice to influence their political action. Mayor Schmitz was perhaps no worse than some other politicians that San Francisco has had in the past, but he was more clumsy. His conception of public office led him to believe it was an opportunity for collecting money from those who asked special privileges. When he got into the business he, no doubt, thought he was doing only what others before him had done. His inexperience led him to do it in a way which got him into trouble. He ought to be an example for labor movements all over the country. Labor agitators who enter into politics are generally dangerous, more dangerous than representative of special privileges, for the reason that they are usually more irresponsible from a financial standpoint. The dishonest labor agitator is worse than the dishonest representative of corporations for the reason that he is usually cheaper and consequently more easily bought. His price is lower. The fate of Mayor Schmitz is unfortunate from the standpoint of labor because it has a tendency to characterize labor movements of all kinds.

START OUT RIGHT.

In a word to the June graduates the Catholic Citizen assures them their opportunities for advancement are better today than ever before. There is no ground for the presumption that a poor boy has little chance of success. Quite the contrary. The writer, from his personal experience with humanity, would prefer by far the chance of the poor boy's success in any walk of life to that of his more liberally supplied monetary classmate. By far the great majority of our great men are and have been sons of the honest middle class and poor, else they would never have possessed the fine physique and mentality necessary to achieve success in this country of strenuous life. All walks of life are open to the honest and trustworthy boy and girl. The Catholic youth starting out in life must be ever ready to answer any question put to him concerning the ordinary doctrine of his Church. His non-Catholic friends will think him ignorant if he is not qualified to answer, and if he is, they will respect him the more for it. He must feel that as a citizen of these United States he has as good a right to voice his lawful sentiments as has his non-Catholic fellow citizen. If he enters the battle of life with a determination never to falter or turn back while following the course of truth, but march steadily forward regardless of whom he may please, success is sure to crown his efforts.

WORK FOR MANY.

Never before was there such a demand for labor in this country, and today no able bodied man need be idle except through his own choice. The Northwest both skilled and unskilled workers are wanted at the highest wages paid in the United States. Twenty thousand men are needed by the lumber mills operating in Eastern Washington and Oregon and Northern Idaho, and as many more are wanted by the Northern Pacific and other railroad companies building lines in that part of the Northwest. The situation has become so acute that unless men can be secured at once much construction work will be delayed and many of the mills will be forced to close, sending their laborers into the woods. To steady men a higher wage is offered than in any other part of the United States or Canada for similar work. The men in the woods receive from $45 to $75 a month and board, while in the mills this scale ranges from $3.50 to $10 a day. The great Northwest is full of golden opportunities for the energetic young man who seems to have no chance in the large cities.

One of the largest audiences that ever convened on a like occasion in this city gathered in the assembly hall of St. Xavier's College on Thursday night of last week to grace the annual commencement of this now famous local Catholic educational institution. The speeches of the graduates were excellent in matter and delivery, and were received with loud applause by the large audience. All who took part in the exercises acquitted themselves well, adding fresh laurels to the Xavierian Brothers, than whom there are no better teachers anywhere. Louisville is justly proud of this excellent college, that makes men of all its students.

Members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society in this city and throughout the country are much elated over the action of the National Convention of Charities and Corrections in electing to the Presidency Dr. Thomas Mulry, of New York City. Though entitled to only two, Kentucky was given eight places on prominent committees, those chosen being Thomas D. Osborne, George L. Schon, Edward Grauman, Dr. M. K. Allen, Dr. George F. Sprague, Prof. B. B. Huntton, Mrs. Desha, Breckinridge and Miss Louise Speed.

Word comes from Rome that the report is again circulating there that American Catholics are collecting funds to buy a strip of land between the Vatican and the Tyrrhenian Sea, so as to allow the Pope physical communication with the outside world without the interference of the State in which the Papacy now resides. This is the old Associated Press story that appears every year during the "silly season."

Louisville is not the only city that is having its governmental troubles. Last Saturday the Tennessee Supreme Court handed down a decision holding that the new charter for the city of Memphis, adopted by the last session of the Legislature, is unconstitutional. Unless the Legislature convenes and remedies the defects the court points out the city will have no government and affairs will be awfully muddled.

Thursday morning the mandate of the Court of Appeals, declaring vacant the offices of the city and county officials voted for in the election two years ago, was filed here. Soon thereafter Gov. Beckham announced the appointment of Robert W. Bingham to be Mayor of Louisville. Appointments for the other offices will not be made until today.

We congratulate the Executive Committee of the Kentucky State Development Association upon its selection of Hon. Edward J. McDermott for President. No man in the State is better equipped for the place, and energy and zeal count for anything Kentucky will soon realize most satisfactory results.

Lebanon is now "dry," but reports from there say several barrels of "booze" are carried into the town in bottles and jugs every week. Prohibition always works that way.

CARDINAL TO GRADUATES.

In an address at the commencement exercises of the St. Cecilia Academy, Washington, Cardinal Gibbons said to the girl graduates: "You may save this country from irreparable injury by sanctifying and making pure the home. Most women's mission upon this earth is to become wives and mothers as well as daughters, and when they take up their new life they become the rulers of the home. Without a home circle, pure and sacred, no nation can become great."

Mrs. Francis A. Gathof, of West Madison street, accompanied by her son and daughter, Master Francis and Miss Helen Gathof, left this week for Nashville, to visit Mrs. Gathof's mother, Mrs. E. Pendleton.

Mrs. Fred J. Crowley arrived Monday from Chicago to spend the summer with her Louisville friends. Upon the adjournment of the Chicago courts her husband will join her and they take up their new life when they become the rulers of the home. Without a home circle, pure and sacred, no nation can become great."

To remove grass stains, if fresh, and Andrew Fehr will join the party at later date and remain during the summer.

Camden R. McAtee, who graduated last week with marked honors from the law school of the Indiana University, has returned home, accompanied by his parents, who went to Bloomington to attend the commencement exercises.

Miss Ella Knable and Henry Ray were married Wednesday at St. Mary of the Knobs church, Lafayette township. They are now on a honey moon trip to the Eastern cities, and upon their return will reside on North Pearl street, New Albany.

William Kerberg, Jr., who is studying for the priesthood at St. Francis' College, Cincinnati, is home for the summer vacation. During the past years the young student won signal honors and in September will enter upon his third year under most favorable circumstances.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Murphy, Jr., who returned last week from their wedding trip, have gone to housekeeping at Wall and Market streets, Jeffersonville. Upon their arrival there was an outpouring of their friends at the residence of George Steiner, where there was a kitchen shower and the couple received numerous fine presents.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Ada Regina Weir, the lovely and accomplished daughter of P. F. Weir, and Henry J. Misback, well known in business and social circles. The wedding will take place on July 3 at 4 o'clock at St. Paul's church, Jackson and Kentucky streets, Rev. Father York performing the ceremony.

Quite a large gathering of friends and relatives witnessed the marriage of Miss Frances Haller and Adam Oberhauser, well known young people of New Albany, at St. Mary's church on Wednesday morning. Father Borries officiated at the nuptial mass and performed the ceremony, which was followed by an elegant wedding breakfast.

A private picnic was given at Friendship's Grove, near New Albany, last Sunday, when a very delightful time was spent by all, boating and other amusements being features of the day. The party consisted of Misses Tillie Cumif, Mary Ellen Cumif, Anna Doyle, Katie McCue, Mamie McCue, Evelyn Moeller, Agnes Nevil, Nona Nevil, Irene Nicoll, Mary Nicoll, Messrs. William Baldwin, Thomas Gilligan, John Kelley, Con McBaron, Dennis McNe, Martin McCue, Henry Mason, Albert Musselman, John Seibert and Henry Wolfe.

Few weddings have been of greater interest in West End Catholic society circles than that of Miss Neil Cunningham and Joseph McWilliam, which was solemnized Wednesday at St. Patrick's church by the Very Rev. Father Cronin, V. G. The bride and groom are extremely popular and the church was thronged with friends who came to offer congratulations. Following the ceremony there was a largely attended reception and wedding feast at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Patrick T. Sullivan, 125 Twenty-first street. The young couple have gone to housekeeping and are at home to their friends in a cosy residence built by the groom at 2527 St. Xavier street.

AUSTIN WALSH.

Would Serve Real Interest of the People in Next Legislature.

Austin E. Walsh, a well known young attorney of the local bar who is associated with his brother, Thomas Walsh, in the practice of law, has announced his candidacy for Representative of the Eleventh district, composed of the Eleventh and Twelfth wards. Austin Walsh is a young lawyer of recognized ability in his chosen profession, and above all is recognized as a man of absolute honesty, integrity and fidelity to sound principles in both private and public life, and therefore if he is elected he is certain to serve the best interests of his constituents regardless of favor, fear or faction. He is a prominent member of Mackin Council and is likewise a valued member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, with whose work he has been strongly identified since his admission into their ranks. He has a large personal following in the district, and we confidently predict that he will secure the nomination. He enters the race without pledges to any man or act of men, but does pledge himself that he shall in the event of his election serve the real interests of the people.

HINTS ON STYLE.

Monograms of metal are set on the handles of smart new parasols.

Empire fashions still rule the choice of the nursery authorities.

One of the neatest of the new coats is in a modified riding habit cut. It covers the hips, the end of coat making a good length line.

New houses are made of accordian plated crepe de chine—very simple, soft and becoming. The elbow sleeves are plated like the bow of the blouse.

Tan or dark gray ooze forms the top for some of the smart black boots of the season and a pair of tan tan shows uppers in a black and white check.

The arms of long silk gloves are embroidered in all-over sprays and vine designs and on some the upper edge is finished with an embroidered scallop.

Pink parasols have pink handles, blue parasols have handles of blue, and so on—every stick topped with a blossom as natural as life in the same shade.

Soft mull, voile and veillings in black are being worn now as mourning, and are quite as appropriate as crepe or cashmere, and for this season of the year are decidedly cooler and more comfortable.

The plaited skirt still holds its own for street wear, and its rival is the well fitted skirt with two circular flounces. This is a pretty style for a striped fabric, and saves the necessity of matching the lines.

CLERKS AND CARRIERS.

The Sisters of Mercy, of Jeffersonville, will give their annual outing at their grounds on Sparks avenue on Thursday, July 11. It was originally intended to have it on July 4, but on account of conflict with other affairs it was decided to postpone it until a week later. The Catholic ladies of that city take much interest in this annual outing and devote a great deal of their time toward making it a success.

CONFIRMATION.

The Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey administered the sacrament of confirmation to a large class of boys and girls at St. Mary Magdalene's on Tuesday morning. Rev. Father Gansepol and the ladies of the Altar Society had made great preparation for the event, and the scene in the church was an impressive and brilliant one.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Massachusetts has 162 auxiliaries with a membership of over 13,000. The South Boston division will have big union initiation tomorrow.

The Massachusetts State officers report the assets of the 248 divisions at $451,398.

Deputy Assessor Joe Lepihan is rapidly acquiring a reputation as a silver tongued orator.

If the picnic and field day is a success it will be the means of starting a boom for the order.

Members have leased the Railway Block in New Britain, Conn., and will shortly start to remodel the same.

Minneapolis Hibernians are taking prominent part in athletic sports, having excellent baseball and football teams.

The entire picnic committee will hold their weekly meeting tomorrow at D. J. Coleman's, 1731 Portland avenue.

Every member of the order should dispose of his entire book of picnic tickets and thereby insure a big success.

The division and auxiliary at South Manchester, Conn., are arranging for a fair during the month of October.

Every division reports a good sale of picnic tickets, and now it looks like the whole question is up to the weather man.

State President Rogers has increased the membership in Massachusetts over 1,000 during his first year in office.

County President Sullivan is making an effort to establish another division at Pueblo, Colo., to represent the North Side.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Brockton, Mass., numbering over 500, will entertain the officers of the County Board tomorrow.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Pueblo, Colo., gave a delightful function at their hall and netted a nice sum for St. Patrick's church.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Wednesday evening and a delegation of the picnic committee will be on hand to solicit their help.

Exclusive of real estate, paraphernalia, banners, etc., the assets of the Ladies' Auxiliary at the close of the last year totaled $205,966.

Miss Anna Malla, National President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, expects the membership to reach 55,000 before the next national convention.

Monday the Ladies' Auxiliary of Milwaukee held a children's night, when members brought their little ones for an enjoyable evening.

D. J. Coleman, the hustling County Board Treasurer, has been likened to a famous medicinal remedy—he works while some members sleep.

Tom Dolan told Division 4's members that if they were afraid to enter strenuous games that the committee would furnish them bean bags and croquet.

Division 4 of Syracuse wants to present the largest class for the examination of the degrees to be held under the auspices of the County Board in the early autumn.

Milwaukee Hibernians will hold their annual celebration at Schlitz Park on Saturday, August 16. It is expected that the orator of the day will be Gov. Burke, of North Dakota.

The order continues to grow in St. Paul. At their last meeting Divisions 1 and 4 initiated several candidates each and received more applications. Division 6 held an open meeting Tuesday night and invited all eligible to join and share the good things associated with the order.

Decidedly the best thing the Irish Standard ever witnessed among Minneapolis Hibernians in the line of comic vaudeville was the programme that followed the conferring of the degrees on a class of seventy-five candidates last week. Upon the completion of the programme the Ladies' Auxiliary served an excellent luncheon to all in the dining room.

The Presidents of the various divisions in the city of Yonkers met recently to devise ways and means to secure funds sufficient to erect a monument for their late State Chaplin, Rev. Bernard A. Brady, pastor of St. Joseph church, who died over a year ago. It was decided to request the County Board at the next regular meeting, which will be held in Port Chester, June 30, to apply to the State Board to levy a special assessment on all the divisions in the State of New York. The cost of this monument is estimated at $1,000 when completed; it will be a credit to the Irish race. Father Brady was widely known in Irish circles and beloved by the community at large, and this grand affair got up in his memory will let the world see that although he is dead he is not forgotten.

WHITE CITY TURNS.

The management of the White City announces that the free vaudeville bill next week will be even better than the one offered twice daily at the popular resort this week. The headline feature for the week will be Alex Seabert's Society Circus, a turn which was seen for several weeks at Luna Park, Coney Island, last year.

Prof. Bylick's trained seals and sea lions have also been secured and will end an air of novelty to the bill. The pretty little Wellington sisters have been re-engaged for next week, having made a big hit with their singing and dancing specialty. This afternoon and tonight the clerks and carvers of this city will celebrate Post-office day there and hold their annual outing.

CHARITY CLUB PICNIC.

From Exchanges.

Eight malicious injury claims were listed before Judge Shaw at the Trace quarter sessions.

A further substantial remittance has just been announced from Rev. John Greally, who is in the States soliciting subscriptions on behalf of St. Patrick's new church at Ballynahan.

A commission was held in Omagh, inquiring into the claims of claimants from various parts of Tyrone and elsewhere to the fortune of the late Gen. James W. Reilly, of Ohio, who died intestate, leaving a fortune of about $200,000.

The members of the Catholic Young Men's Society of Clonmel presented David F. O'Connor, a very popular member of the club, and son of Alderman O'Connor, with a very handsome suite of drawing room furniture on the occasion of his marriage to Miss Margaret Byrne, second daughter of Charles Byrne, O'Connell street.

Ellen Kennedy, an elderly woman, of Ballina, County Mayo, met her death under pathetic circumstances. The poor woman apparently forgot on retiring to rest to extinguish a candle, which presumably set fire to her bedclothes while she was sleeping. The house was observed in flames in the morning, and on the fire being extinguished the charred remains of Mrs. Kennedy were found in the debris. A verdict of death from burning was returned at the inquest.

With the object of taking steps to mark in a special manner the forthcoming sacerdotal silver jubilee of Most Rev. Dr. Clancy, Bishop of Elphin, a large and important meeting of parishioners was held in the Gillooly Memorial Hall, Sligo, under the Presidency of Very Rev. Dr. Cummins. The Mayor of Sligo, High Sheriff Collyer and P. A. Mulligan, M. P., were among those present. The meeting was unanimous in its determination to pay a personal tribute of regard and esteem to Dr. Clancy, who was not only the Bishop of these assembled, but also their parish priest.

A respectable licensed vintner, Mrs. Carroll, who for a long number of years carried on public business on Main street, Miltown, was found dead by her daughter on the stairs of their residence, and from what can be learned concerning the sad affair death must have resulted from a fall downstairs that befell the poor woman about daybreak, as she was coming down to the shop from her apartment. Quite a shock was occasioned in the town when the news of the tragic occurrence became known, and much sympathy was felt for the relatives of the deceased lady, who was one of the oldest traders in the town.

Since the announcement of Mr. Cogan's resignation for East Wicklow many names have been mentioned as probable candidates for the vacancy, among them being Gen. Sir William F. Butler, who made himself famous in connection with the Boer war. The Unionists consider they have made good headway in the constituency, that their number on the voters' registry has been largely increased, especially in Greystones and the northern districts generally, and are seriously considering putting forward a candidate on their own behalf. John Redmond has been communicated with, and a meeting of the League Executive will be called on receipt of a reply to select a Nationalist candidate. A great deal of local interest is manifested in the selection of a candidate.

All through Monday afternoon there was a very visible activity among the police in Athlone. Singly and in couples they were to be met all over the town, apparently latent on some very important business. Everyone noticed it, but it was late in the afternoon when the reason for those unusual constabulary movements became known. Many thought that it might be in connection with some of the grazing farms on the Connaught side near the town, especially as some of the men were going about on bleyves. It finally transpired that Major McBride, the well known leader of the Irish Brigade in the Boer army, was responsible for it. It seems that the Major on his way back to Dublin from the West broke his journey to see the town, and the moment he appeared there was a little flutter in the police dovecots. He might have come as a harmless tourist or his presence might be connected with some more dangerous mission, so he had to be watched. The Imperial Hotel where he stopped was under supervision, and when he went to Kiltown to visit Dr. Sheridan two police followed on bicycles. It does not seem that he succeeded in raising up any wicked sedition to this part of the country, and he left quietly on the evening mail. Dr. Sheridan and M. J. Hughes, J. P., saw him off at the station.

PLEASURE FOR CHILDREN.

There will be more pleasure to the minute for the children at Fontaine Ferry Park this afternoon than ever happened before. They will see a fine vaudeville performance, with acts that appeal to the childlike taste. They will have free rides on the different amusement devices at the park, and in addition they will secure for themselves hundreds of valuable presents. There never was a day of pleasure planned in this city for the young folks that held more of bright promise than today at Fontaine Ferry. Another popular special feature will be the fireworks display tonight. Next week's bill at the Hopkins Pavilion will be one of rare merit and certain to please its patrons.

DANGER POINT PASSED.

Michael J. Owens, the well known Illinois Central railroad detective, who has been at St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital with a fractured skull, has been pronounced out of danger and his recovery now seems assured. Last week Owens was assaulted by a big negro with a baseball bat at Twelfth and Dumessin streets and suffered injuries that rendered him unconscious and for several days his life was despaired of.

WILL VISIT BARRY COUNCIL.

James T. Several Grand officers and members of local councils will accompany him.

FORT WAYNE

Diocese Will Attain Its Fifteenth Anniversary in September.

On September 22 next the Diocese of Fort Wayne will attain the fifteenth anniversary of its erection. In some respects it is one of the prominent Sees of the country. Its first Bishop was Right Rev. J. H. Luers, D. D., who was consecrated on January 10, 1858, and who successfully directed its early extension for a period of over thirteen years, being called to his eternal reward on June 29, 1871. Next in succession was Right Rev. Joseph Dwenger, D. D., consecrated on April 14, 1872. Of the four Bishops of the See he exceeded all others in point of service many years, having been in discharge of his duties for twenty-one years. He died on January 22, 1893. Next came Right Rev. Joseph Rademacher, D. D., who was consecrated Bishop of Nashville, Tenn., on June 24, 1883, when he was transferred to Fort Wayne by Pontifical letters of that date, and who died January 2, 1900. And finally the present Bishop, Right Rev. Herman Joseph Alberding, D. D., who was consecrated on November 30, 1900. The Catholic population of the diocese is $1,000,000. Their spiritual wants are supplied by 197 priests. One hundred and ten churches have resident priests and forty-one missions have churches. There are six stations and forty-eight chapels. Religious orders have two seminaries. There are two colleges for boys and thirteen academies for young ladies. Eighty-two parishes have schools, with a total attendance of 14,130. In the diocese are twelve hospitals and two homes for old people.

MADE POLICEMEN SWIM.

All the north is laughing at an experience of the police at Lough Neagh, Ireland. An inter-county cock fight was arranged between birds from Londonderry and Antrim and was held on one of the islands on the Lough. The police got wind of it and arrived, as they usually do, late. All the available boats had been pressed into use by the spectators and the police after trying vainly to secure transportation to the island determined to swim for it. Just as they arrived the boat ended and every boat put off for the mainland again. The police had a swim back for their pains, and when they reached the mainland they found that their clothing, over which they had neglected to leave a guard, had disappeared. They had a ten mile march in dripping underclothes to the nearest barracks, where they were put to bed until new uniforms could be procured.

CHANGED THEIR TACTICS.

The enemies of the Catholic Church are not dead. They are merely quiescent. They have changed their tactics. Seldom is the Catholic Church openly attacked in these days, but in sly, subtle, insidious ways fundamental principles of Catholic faith and morality are daily and hourly attacked in the papers, magazines and books which pour from the press. And the pity of it is that comparatively few Catholics are aware of the fact that they are imbibing the most subtle moral and mental poisons concealed in the charming essays, stories or articles that are spread alluringly before them. Now the natural antidote to this poison is the Catholic newspaper in which Catholic principles are not only enunciated constantly, but are applied to the many questions which come up in the daily life of the world.

REFUSED MANSFIELD.

There died in a Washington Catholic convent not long ago, says an exchange, a nun who had taken the holy vows after she had refused the hand of Richard Mansfield, the actor. They had been sweethearts for years and it is said that for awhile they were engaged. Persons who know her in Washington declare that she was one of the most devout Christians they had ever known. After she had entered the convent Mansfield never came to Washington that he did not send to her, with the permission of the convent authorities, great quantities of flowers. These she distributed among the hospitals for the poor.

NEWSBOY TO SENATOR.

Bernard F. O'Neill, State Senator of Shoshone, an ex-President of the Idaho Bankers' Association, who used to be a newsboy himself, recently dropped in at the Newsboys' Lodging House, in New Chambers street, New York City, and talked to the boys. He told them how bright their prospects were, and they must have felt encouraged when they found that he was a bank President three times over and an Idaho Comptroller. Twenty-five years ago, Mr. O'Neill told the newsboys, he lived on the lower East Side. Both of his parents were dead. He went with a party of wards who were about to start for Shibley, Iowa, where a motherly woman met him and took him home. Then he went to her brother's ranch, where his early training was bronco busting and cow punching. After a time he left the ranch and sold hogs to pay his expenses through school.

SEARCH FOR CANNON.

Tradition still survives in Luzerne county, Pennsylvania, that when Gen. John Sullivan marched through that region in 1779 on his expedition against the Indian confederacy of Central New York he buried some surplus brass cannon along the Wilkesbarre mountains. To search for these revolutionary relics a number of the best known citizens of Ashley have formed themselves into an historical society. Recently the members scoured the mountain in the vicinity of Laurel run, but could find no relics except a few Indian arrow points.

PENON'S SMALL CHURCH.

At Penon, Mexico, a suburb of Mexico City, may be seen what is perhaps the smallest church in the world. It nestles under the shadow of a small volcano. The church is about ten feet high and twelve feet wide. Whenever a couple is married at the little altar of the church there is barely room for the bridegroom and bride to turn around at the same time.

NINETEEN RECEIVE DIPLOMAS.

There were nineteen Catholic young ladies who received diplomas at Greeley to the State Normal School, entitling them to teach in the schools of Colorado and elsewhere.

"QUICK MEAL" GAS RANGES

For many years the "Quick Meal" has been universally acknowledged as the best gas range in the market. They cook quickly, bake excellently and on account of their patent air burners consume less gas than any other. They are more easily cleaned and are made to last. The new improvements this year will keep it in the front rank. Having made our 1907 contract before the advance in prices of all iron goods we are able to sell at old prices.
